finally, a "loving daughter" who always wants to help you!

Rent-A-Helpful Daughter's help is only a phone call away!

(Like a Fairy Godmother on call!)

A "helpful daughter" is right in the neighborhood!

A loving, trustworthy and reliable "surrogate daughter" is ready to take care of you!

Whatever you want or need to do:

- I need errands done outside of the home. A trip to the post office, the library, the Dollar Store, or the supermarket.
- I would like to go to see the holiday lights and Christmas displays in the department stores, and even have her "wheel me" around the mall.
- I want to be as independent as I can be. I need help with light housekeeping and meal preparation, and sometimes with bathing and dressing.
- I would like to go out for a ride for the day. I like to visit somebody when I am feeling "down in the dumps."
- I need somebody to count on for night services or an emergency. If I have a cold or the flu, I don't want to be alone.
- I need a companion. Somebody to take me to a museum, the zoo, the aquarium, or even to one of my favorite restaurants.
- I need somebody to help me with problems in my daily life, assist with personal hygiene, prepare a meal, or help with shopping.
- I need a paid travel escort/companion so I can visit my relatives. I need general all around assistance if I am going to continue living in my home. I like to have someone on call who knows me, my home and my pets.
- If I name it, I just need somebody to do it for me: straighten a closet, clean up some clutter, empty a litter pan, walk the dog, do occasional every day things.
- I would like somebody to take me and a few of my lady friends out to lunch once a month. Can Patricia take the "lunch ladies" and be our chauffeur for times that we need to get out of the home? We need something to look forward to, something to chase the blues away.
